

Princeton Public Library
Adult Summer Reading Club 2008

The Green List

Big Green Purse: use your spending power to create a cleaner, greener world

by Diane MacEachern, 2008

MacEachern's message is simple. If women harness the "power of the purse" and intentionally shift their spending money to commodities that have the greatest environmental benefit they can create a cleaner, greener world.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Mac

Blessed Unrest: how the largest movement in the world came into being, and why no one saw it coming

by Paul Hawken, 2007

Hawken traces the formation of the environmental and social justice movement from the beginning of natural science across the years and continents in this call to action.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Haw

A Contract with the Earth

by Newt Gingrich, 2007

Efforts to cleanse the world's air and water and put a brake on climate change aren't exclusive to one political philosophy. The authors' concern for the future of the earth is sincere, but their prescription for action breaks shallow ground.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Gin

Go Green, Live Rich: 50 simple ways to save the earth and get rich trying

by David Bach, 2008

Bach offers a multitude of suggestions for conserving the planet – and your money. A few of Bach's tips require making a serious commitment – growing your own vegetables, using recyclable energy. Others are simpler such as unplugging unused appliances, switching to compact fluorescent bulbs or eating less meat.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Bac

Gorgeously Green: 8 simple steps to an Earth-friendly life

by Sophie Uliano, 2008

This book offers a simple eight-step program that is easy and a fun way to begin living an earth-friendly life. Each chapter covers topics from beauty to fitness, shopping and transportation.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Uli

The Green Book: the everyday guide to saving the planet one simple step at a time

by Elizabeth Rogers, 2007

Environmental matters get the star treatment in The Green Book. Rogers and Kostigen address the fact that Americans endanger the balance of the ecosystem by the amount of waste we produce, the amount of water we use, and the amount of energy we consume. Several celebrities, including Robert Redford, Ellen DeGeneres, Jennifer Aniston and others contribute observations and suggestions for living green. Also, the authors establish 12 aspects of our habitat and suggest better lifestyle choices in each area.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Rog

Living Like Ed

by Ed Begley, Jr., 2008

Here are tips for environmentally friendly living that anyone can try. From quick fixes to bigger commitments and long-term strategies, Ed will help you make the necessary changes.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Beg

Slow Food: collected thoughts on taste, tradition, and the honest pleasures of food

edited by Carlo Petrini, 2001

This collection of articles from Slow Magazine, the journal of the Slow Food Movement, celebrates the food customs from around the world and decries the fast food ethos that threatens to globalize our palates.

Non-F 641.013 Slo

This Moment on Earth: today's new environmentalists and their vision for the future

by John Kerry, 2007

Environmentalism isn't dead; it is being reborn declares John Kerry and his wife. The individuals and groups that the couple profile embody a no-nonsense approach to environmentalism that gets results.

New Books, Non-F 363.72 Ker

True Green @ Work: 100 ways you can make the environment your business

by Kim McKay, 2008

This do-it-yourself manual is for the working world--business, workers, and day-to-day life at the office. Positive and practical, True Green @ Work tells everyone who holds a job how to minimize their company's carbon footprint.

New Books, Non-F 333.72 Mck

List prepared by Linda Adams, Adult and Reference Services.